To the Citizens of Raymond:

Although we show a deficit of $2,226.44, we have paid $4,000 in Bank Notes and $2,600 on Water Bonds.

We think, taking everything into consideration, our report for 1933 looks good.

We have saved $61.20 on our water pumping and the next year should be even less. Our pumps are in good condition and we have found some bad leaks in the system. Our cost of running the system itself is only $443.90. We were obliged to buy two new hydrants for replacement.

We wish the Town would vote to pay a certain amount of the Water Bonds each year, which would eliminate so much interest money that keeps us back. It is the purpose of the Water Commissioners to get out of the RED, and with your help we can do this.

HOT LUNCH SERVICE

Year Ending June 30, 1933

FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT

To the Superintendent and School Board:

My aim in serving hot lunches this last winter has been to provide the largest amount of food possible for five cents a portion. No attempt was made to make it a money-making proposition. There was a surplus, however, when the bills were paid and the money was used for laboratory equipment.

Largely through the efforts of Mr. Christianson, our P.T.A. President, we have had liberal contributions of supplies and money. When the food contributed could not be used at school, it was sent home to worthy families.

REPORT OF RAYMOND HIGH SCHOOL

To the Superintendent and School Board:

The school year started with an enrollment of 74, which has been increased to 82. For the fourth year in succession the total enrollment has been greater than any previous year, this year's enrollment of 82 being practically double the total enrollment of five years ago, which was 42. Of course, an immediate result of this increase is a crowded condition, in spite of the addition put on two years ago. Especially is this true in the Commercial Department, where efficient work demands more room.

The number of tuition pupils, 38, is the largest in the history of the school. They come from Candia, Chester, Deerfield, Nottingham and Sandown.

The school library has fulfilled its purpose to a greater degree than before, due to the fact that more magazines have been available. Also, through the kindness of Miss Mitchell, former first-grade teacher, the Manchester Union is being received this year. A few more magazines and reference books would add to the usefulness of the library.

Last year's debating team, composed of Edith Hammond, Bessie Bond, Donald Harmon and Donald Carver, won the State Championship. In addition, and perhaps of a greater importance, the team members and other students interested gained a knowledge of our tax system which will be of value to them in later life. We wish to thank the members of the churches for the use of the buildings for debates. This year's debate question is Radio Control. Raymond, the second smallest school in the League, is matched with Portsmouth and Nashua, the two largest schools, in the trial round.

The basketball teams were severely handicapped by lack of practice, as we were unable to have the hall Thursday afternoons, as we have had in the past. Sanborn Seminary and Epping High School both invited us to practice with them, while Ai Welch gave us the use of his barn, which was used when the weather permitted. In spite of the lack of practice, the boys won half their games, and were told by a referee who has played for the University of New Hampshire that they would have had a good chance to get into the tournament, if they had had a chance for regular practice.

The Commercial Department began taking part in contests in typewriting and shorthand sponsored by the Gregg Publishing Company, with the very fine record of receiving 25 awards for excellence last year and 13 so far this year.

The Agricultural Department took first place in the Junior High exhibit at Hopkinton Fair and second in the State Egg and Chick Show on an egg exhibit at Concord. They also furnished a lighted Christmas tree, in co-operation with Andrew Gordon and the New Hampshire Gas & Electric Company, for the park.

In conclusion, I repeat what I have said in previous years, that we need the full co-operation of the parents in order to have a successful school. In most things we have had this co-operation, but we would like to have the parents visit school and see things in actual operation.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) L. P. BAGLEY,
Headmaster

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board of Raymond:

My fifth annual report deals briefly with enrollment and per pupil costs, changes in staff of teachers, enlargement of equipment, physical welfare and other activities.

The total enrollment increased last year from two hundred seventy-two to two hundred eighty-one pupils. Eighty of these were in the senior high school.

In the elementary grades the cost per pupil was reduced $9.03 — a drop from $70.35 to $61.32. The median cost per pupil for all public elementary schools of the state was $75.89.

In your senior high school your total cost per pupil, $102.66, compares favorably with the median, $102.44, for all public high schools in the state. After deducting tuition receipts and Smith-Hughes federal aid funds the net cost per pupil in Raymond High School was $70.68.

A class of seven was graduated from the high school in June. Two of these are now students at the State University, another is attending business college.

At the close of the school year last June Raymond lost two valuable teachers. Mrs. Hazel E. Robbins, who had served efficiently for seven years in your primary grades, withdrew from the profession; and Mr. John K. Whittemore of the high school faculty accepted a more lucrative position as teacher in Walpole. Mr. Whittiemore developed your Smith-Hughes courses in agriculture and—in his three years of service—brought Raymond into prominence among the agricultural high schools of the state.

Miss Muriel A. A. Price—a graduate of Keene Normal School in 1928 and for five years teacher in private kindergarten and public schools of Hanover and Ashland — was elected teacher in your primary department.

Mr. Jonathan A. Osgood of Pittsfield was elected to teach Smith-Hughes courses in agriculture and junior and senior high school science. Mr. Osgood graduated from New Hampshire University in 1932 and completed a year of post-graduate work at the University in 1933. His practice teaching was done in the agricultural department of the Alton High School. In compliance with the federal requirements he began his duties in Raymond last July.

Due to the serious illness of your first-grade teacher, Miss S. Ellen Mitchell, her school has been conducted by substitute teachers so far this year.

The enlargement of equipment from public funds has been limited to two departments.

The size of the regular commercial classes has necessitated the purchase of three additional typewriters, making a total of ten machines in this department. Six of these have been in use for approximately seven years, and economy of up-keep demands their replacement before next September. The annual budget includes an item for this purpose.

Under the direction of Miss Louise M. Norton, state supervisor of home economics, two new sewing machines have been installed. This makes a total of only four machines in a department used by more than forty girls.

The high school graduates of 1933 presented as their class gift to the schools a Number One First Aid Kit. This cabinet comes into almost daily use and is as frequently appreciated.

Foremost among the aids to physical welfare are the services of your School Nurse. I regret that her constant co-operation in allocating state and federal assistance does not appear in her printed report.

No single feature of state and federal relief has a greater bearing on the health of growing children than the daily distribution of the milk ration. Through the initiative of our Governor, federal funds were procured and free milk service was inaugurated in March of 1933 and is being extended through the present school year. New Hampshire's public and parochial schools are using daily over fifteen thousand bottles of milk. Other essential vitamin builders have recently been made available for school children. Such federal activity is no more a form of charity than is the free allotment of paper and pencils in our schools. Both are distributed in accordance with the child's physical or educational needs.

The hot-lunch service of last year—figures for which appear with these reports—commands our appreciation. Most generous contributions from Parent-Teacher Association, Teachers' Club, Methodist Church, local traders and other citizens extended this service to all children who needed it but were unable to pay for it.

This year the Junior King's Daughters are also among the participants in the serving of hot lunches.

A limited sum from federal and state relief funds has recently been made available for the continuance of such physical welfare activity.

The report of Headmaster Laurence P. Bagley deals more specifically with the activities of your high school.

Largely due to Mr. Bagley's efficient coaching, the Raymond debating teams now hold the championship cup awarded for the year by Bates College to the winners of the New Hampshire Debating League.

This winter opportunity has been given through federal funds for the organization of adult classes in automobile mechanics, agriculture, commerce and home economics. Instruction in the first two departments has been temporarily discontinued.

At present over fifty adults—men and women of Raymond and neighboring towns—are pursuing courses in bookkeeping, shorthand, typewriting, cooking, sewing, knitting, child care and home decoration. Classes are divided into groups of eight to twelve individuals. Each group meets from seven to ten o'clock on one or more evenings a week. The purpose of these adult classes is threefold—to give opportunity for worthy use of leisure, to demonstrate that education is a lifetime process of learning, and to set unemployed teachers to work.

The improvement of grounds and the addition of athletic facilities have not been neglected. The recent allotment of over a thousand dollars under the Civil Works Administration has made possible the excavation of a skating rink. This is sufficiently large to permit the construction of two tennis courts within the rink. Through similar funds the pine growth on the school grounds has been improved, underbrush burned, and the hardwood fitted for heating the school buildings.

The most urgent need of your schools with their present enrollment of over two hundred fifty pupils is a gymnasium that can be converted into an auditorium for school and public assembly.

In conclusion, it should be noted that, while financial retrenchment has been necessary and has been attended by some inconvenience, only two elementary courses of instruction have been eliminated from the curricula of your schools.

The loyalty, understanding, and co-operative effort evinced between the homes and the schools in meeting changed conditions are of more value than mere courses of instruction.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE H. HARMON,
Superintendent
